Aarhus

The 2017 European Capital of Culture has cool museums and galleries as well as a wide range of modern Nordic food and drink, all within a compact walkable city centre.

Emerging from the shadow cast by Copenhagen, Aarhus is transforming and staking a claim as a European destination for city-breakers, festival goers, art and food fans, and those looking beyond the capital.

Aarhus offers an elegant mix of cosmopolitan city and quaint small town charm, with wonderful pubs, restaurants and visitor attractions.

It's a clean and well organised city making walking an excellent and enjoyable way to get around and sample the charm of "The City of Smiles".
